

OF ORGANIZATION THERE ARE THREE KINDS ...

First, there are those that are based on the power, wealth, or authority of its leaders.

Second, there are those that are organized for the convenience of its members, and it will continue to exist as long as the members satisfy their conveniences and do not quarrel.

Third, there are those that are organized with some good teaching as its center and harmony as its very life.

Of course, the third or last of these is the only true organization, for in it the members live in one spirit, from which the unity of spirit and various kinds of virtue will arise. In such an organization there will prevail harmony, satisfaction, and happiness.
